Website features

The website was created to meet the requirements of Art. 43a of Ordinance No. 2 for disclosure to the public of the regulated information under Art. 27 (1) of Ordinance No. 2 through an electronic system in a way that ensures its fast dissemination to as many persons as possible in all Member States and in a way that does not discriminate against them. The website informs the Users about the services provided by the Provider, gives the opportunity to contact the Provider, provides access to up-to-date information, news and publications, to a digital database for third parties - website visitors, and provides comprehensive information about the various levels of access and subscription types when using the digital database.

Characteristics of the services

The services provided by the Provider to the User are information society services within the meaning of the Electronic Commerce Act. At www.x3news.com the Provider offers both free and paid services, and the provisions of these General Terms apply to both types of services. The services provided by the Provider to the User include a set of digital resources and/or services that are predefined and announced by the Provider of www.x3news.com. The use of some of the services requires online registration or payment of a certain price, or online registration and payment of a certain price, announced by the Provider on www.x3news.com (see Registration and technical steps for concluding a free services agreement and Subscription). The access to these services is carried out after an identification procedure.

Registration and technical steps for concluding a free services agreement

1. The access to the digital database, containing the regulated information disclosed to the public under Art. 43a in conjunction with Art. 27 of Ordinance No. 2 as well as the free services are provided to the users free of charge.
2. For the use of freely available services and digital database, the agreement between the Provider and the User constitutes these general terms available on www.x3news.com together with all changes and additions to them.
3. The parties to the agreement for the use of free services and digital database are the Provider and the User of the service(s).
4. The agreement is considered concluded at the moment of starting to use the provided free services and digital database or with the explicit confirmation of these General Terms of Use.
5. The Provider includes in its website interface technical means for identification and correction of errors in the information input before a declaration for conclusion of the agreement is made.
6. The service provision agreement is terminated:
  - ✓ upon expiry of the agreement term according to the selected by the User period of Service provision;
  - ✓ upon termination and declaration of liquidation or bankruptcy by one of the parties to the agreement;
  - ✓ by mutual consent in writing;
  - ✓ unilaterally with a prior notice by each of the parties in case of non-fulfilment of the obligations of the other party;
  - ✓ in case of objective impossibility of any of the parties to the agreement to meet its obligations;
  - ✓ when seizing or sealing the equipment by state authorities.
7. Issuers of securities may use x3news media to inform the public about the provided regulated information under Art. 43a of Ordinance No. 2 by concluding a separate, written agreement with Financial Market Services Ltd. in its capacity of owner and administrator of x3news and paying the respective price or subscription fee as specified in the agreement.
8. The public information services are subject to a separate agreement for the provision of information services, which is concluded in writing and does not apply to rights and obligations arising from these General Terms of Use. The agreement determines the order, way and the value of providing services to inform the public about the provided regulated information.

Prices and methods of service payment

The Provider provides, and the User uses the service according to the parameters incl. financial announced on the Provider's website. Concerning services provided through the website for a fee, the Provider determines and announces on its website the price/subscription fee of the respective service, as well as what it includes. In these cases, the Provider provides the service after the User pays the value due.

For a paid service provided by the Provider, the price and methods of payment are determined by an individual agreement between the Provider and the User. In these cases, the website is only an information provider under the E-Commerce Act.

Payments of the respective service/subscription fee by the User are made by bank transfer (by transfer to a bank account specified by the Provider), for which the Provider must present to the User a cost justification document in accordance with current Bulgarian legislation. The provision of all necessary data in this regard is the responsibility of the User, and they will be used by the Provider only for this purpose.

Responsibilities, rights and obligations of the Users (service users)

1. Users have the right to view the information available on the website, to contact the Provider as well as to use the services provided by the Provider, inclusive but not only those that are advertised on the website.

2. Each User undertakes to use the services following the applicable legislation and these General Terms of Use.

3. Users may use the resources of the Regulatory Documents section for personal use only.

4. Users are not allowed to use directly or indirectly software, tools and technologies that could lead to failure and damage, as well as difficulties and inability other users to use the service, as well as to send unsolicited commercial messages through the Profile Information section and/or the other ways specified on the website.

5. Users have no right to reach and access, incl. to attempt to do so, information that is not publicly available on www.x3news.com.

Responsibilities, rights and obligations of the Provider

1. The Provider has the right at any time and/or at its discretion to make changes to the website, to update, add and remove information and/or services, without obligation to notify and without liability.

2. The provider has the right to temporarily restrict or suspend access to the website and the provision of service(s), committing, after finding and eliminating the root cause, to resume its provision in a timely manner if this happens during its established working hours.

In case of occurrence of a reason leading to restriction or termination of access to the service outside the working hours of the Provider, he undertakes to eliminate the specific reason in a timely manner on the next working day. The working hours of the Provider from Monday to Friday are from 9:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. except for official and national holidays.

3. The Provider has the right to terminate unilaterally and without prior notice the agreement with the Service User in case it finds use of the provided service in violation of these General Terms of Use, national legislation and ethical norms.

4. The Provider is not responsible for the actions of the User, which are in violation of these General Terms.

5. The Provider is not responsible for damages, incl. as a result of a user error, a malicious virus, or a problem with the website architecture.

6. The Provider seeks to maintain accurate and up-to-date information and services on its website, but it may contain errors, omissions and/or malfunctions and the Provider is not responsible for losses and/or damages to the User as a result of using www.x3news.com and/or its resources.

Release from liability

The User agrees to release the Provider from liability in case the User has violated these General Terms and/or any other rights.

The Provider is released from liability for full and/or partial non-performance of the service and/or inability to provide full and/or partial access to the resources of the website in case of vis major.

Intellectual property rights and restrictions on use

All the content on the website is owned by the Provider and is subject to its copyright unless otherwise stated. The use of content from the website is strictly prohibited, except in the cases provided for this purpose. The content of the website is intended solely for personal, non-commercial use by the User. The technological and software solutions with the help of which the website is maintained are property of the Provider or its partners and/or approved suppliers. The provision of access to information and digital resources by the Provider should not be considered and interpreted as granting licenses and/or intellectual property rights. Reproduction of the entire content of the website or parts of it may be carried out only with the explicit written consent of the Provider.

Links to third party websites

The content of the website may contain links to third party websites. The Provider is not responsible for the content of these websites incl. for the links to other websites in them, as well as for their safe use. The Provider is not liable for losses and/or damages to the Users resulting from their use.

Final provisions

When the circumstances require, these General Terms of Use may be changed and/or updated any time by the Provider. Upon the occurrence of this hypothesis, the changed and/or updated General Terms of Use shall be published by the Provider on the website, indicating the date of last update at the beginning of the document. The changed and/or updated General Terms enter into force on the date of their publication on the website, as the User is obliged to periodically check for changes and/or updates, and the Provider to keep the General Terms up-to-date.

Invalidity of a clause or part of the provisions of these General Terms does not lead to invalidity of the entire document/agreement (the General Terms of Use together with all amendments and supplements thereto represent an Agreement between the Provider and the User).

All disputes between the Provider and the User arising from these General Terms and/or the concluded individual agreements will be resolved through negotiations between the parties. In the absence of agreement between them, the matter will be referred to the competent court or the Consumer Protection Commission.

These General Terms of Use enter into force on the day of their publication on the www.x3news.com website.

To issues not settled by these General Terms shall apply the provisions of the applicable Bulgarian legislation.

In case of additional questions related to these General Terms, the User may contact the Provider via the contact details published on the website.
